Ask L-W Voters For Raise In Educational Tax Rate

Voters in the Lincoln-Way high school district, which is made up of Frankfort, New Lenox and a portion of Manhattan townships, are asked by school officials to approve a proposal to raise the educational tax rate from 86 cents to 99 cents, when they go to the polls in the school election April 9.

Those in charge of the school say that an increase in the educational tax rate is imperative if Lincoln-Way is to be properly staffed and equipped.

A comparison of teachers' salary schedules in the region show Lincoln-Way at a distinct disadvantage, school officials point out. It has the lowest starting salary of any regional schools, $4,300 and what is probably of greater importance, it was explained, is that the maximum pay at Lincoln - Way is $6,800. The only schools with lower maximums shown in the 1959-60 school year are Bremen high where the top salary is $6,500 and Thornton Fractional, $6,700. The next lowest is $7,200 at Evergreen Park. Carl Sandburg high at Orland Park pays the top maximum salary in the region $9,595. The starting pay at Sandburg is $4,650. Homewood-Flossmoor has a higher pay for beginners, $5,000, but its maximum is $9,000.

Rich high school has a top of $8,900; Bloom of Chicago Heights, $8,800; Lockport $8,775 and Joliet $8,100.

Teachers, it was pointed out, are attracted to those schools where the maximum salaries are higher and schools that can't offer much of a future are at a disadvantage. Lincoln-Way would like to make the beginning pay $4,500 and the maximum $7,500 for the coming year.

It is understood that most of the schools in the region will be pushing salary schedules upward for the coming school year. Lincoln-Way's board would like to do likewise but cannot unless the educational fund tax rate is raised, a board spokesman said.

Lincoln-Way is adding more classroom space to the school plant and a part of the educational fund raise, if voted, would be used to pay for the additional equipment that will be needed for the expanded science, industrial arts and foreign language departments.

The proposed increase in the educational fund tax rate would bring in approximately $50,000 more a year if it is all collected. A board spokesman pointed out that the average home in the district carries a valuation of $6,000 and the 13 cent increase in the tax levy would add less than $8 to the average tax bill. The educational fund tax rate has not been raised since 1956.

Plan Holy Week Rites For Youths At Frankfort

Teachers will accompany the children to the services and those not wishing to attend will remain at school under the supervision of a teacher.

Holy Week, the most solemn period in the Christian year, begins this Sunday.

Palm Sunday -- so called because of that day almost 2,000 years ago when the people of Jerusalem greeted Jesus as a king when He entered the city. They cheered and exulted and covered the path before Him with palm leaves.

Probably some of these same persons were in the crowd that clamored for His death on the following Friday or watched Him as he struggled along the way to Golgotha under the burden of the heavy cross upon which he died that afternoon.

Holy Week was the last week Our Lord spent on earth as man. So for the Christian world it is a time of solemnity, and sorrow that plunges to desolate depths with the Crucifixion, followed by a joyous climax with the Resurrection on Easter.

Most churches in the area plan special services for Palm Sunday, Holy or Maundy Thursday and Good Friday and of course special services on Easter.

In some churches crosses have been veiled in mourning since late Sunday and altars will be stripped Thursday evening to remain bare until Saturday when they will be decked for Easter.

Oppose Federal Aid

The big government boys -- the people who favor strong centralization of power at the expense of rights on the state, county, city, village, town and school district levels -- are always working.

They have numerous schemes going but the one in which we are particularly interested at this time is the one favored by the National Education Association and various so-called better government and civic improvement groups -- federal aid for education.

We have recommended before and would like to recommend again that the public write their congressmen and senators and urge them not to appropriate funds for this purpose.

Records show, according to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, that states and their subdivisions have done well in solving their own problems in financing the cost of education.

In Illinois, for example, the state has set up a school building commission to erect schools for districts that have exhausted their bonding power. This is a good system. It is not a give-away program. The school district in effect then leases the building at a figure that will pay off the state in full in 16 and 2/3 years. The plan has been used successfully in Country Club Hills and Plainfield, to mention two in the region, and Orland Park grade school district will make use of it if the voters there will approve the proposal a week from Saturday. Illinois also provides state aid to school districts on a formula based on the number of pupils in daily attendance and the educational tax rate.

So far the state has kept its hands off school affairs in districts altho there has been a move to establish a state school board. We believe that if a state school board is set up that it wouldn't be long before the state would begin to tell local school districts what to do and how to do it.

When a state or the federal government furnishes funds for a program it takes over the operation. You don't believe it? Take a look at the Illinois state aid program for streets and roads. The state decides the routes and as far as cities and villages are concerned they don't even have the power any more to set speed limits. The state does that.

The federal government makes grants to farmers, to use an example with which many of our readers are familiar, and when one accepts such grant he must comply with all the rules -- or else. And some of the penalties are quite severe.

If the federal government begins giving grants to build schools or boost teachers' salaries you can bet it won't be long before the bureaucrats at Washington begin taking over. We would hate to see some bureau or bureaus in Washington start telling what courses our schools should provide; what text books they are to use and set up standards for our teachers.

It is a good thing to remember too there is no such thing as federal financial aid. The only money the government has comes from the pockets of the same taxpayers who dig up the funds for state, county, city, village and the schools. It doesn't grow on a bush.

And remember too there is no free money given by the government. When you take it you are selling some of the rights that made this country great.

Ever encounter any swooning goats?

No, no, no -- not ghosts -- goats -- g-o-a-t-s; animals that have horns and a beard if he's and sans horns, sans beards if she's.

The she goats are the workers. They provide milk for people with odd stomachs or ideas. Goat's milk sells for a premium so the shes who can work up a good route should be able to retire within a few years and go south.

The he goats do very little except to stand around and look important or pose for buck beer signs. Years ago one would occasionally see he goats harnessed to little wagons occupied by small fry. This was not always work, however. Usually the goat had fun--running away and spilling the children on the ground and wrecking the wagon. It might be that he would also meet other goats hauling children. Then the goats could fight and the children could fight too so an enjoyable time was had by all.

This of course was back in the days before child psychology or goat psychology either for that matter.

But getting back to swooning goats. This corner had not thought of them in many years until getting a clipping the other day of a column written by Bert Vincent. The dateline was torn off so I'm not certain of Vincent's base of operations but would guess it to be Knoxville as the column was sent on by an aunt who lives in a section of Tennessee.

According to Mr. Vincent a certain species of goats is found here and there in Tennessee and other places in the south that faint when startled by a sudden noise. Sometimes, he says, even a boo will turn the trick and they swoon, flopping over on their backs with their legs sticking straight up.

It is said that numerous psychiatrists have studied these swooning goats but have arrived at no conclusions other than that they must have super sensitive nervous systems.

This department's travels in Tennessee have been somewhat sketchy and did not include any views of the famed Tennessee swooning goats but in Arkansas now the author of this column has seen quite a variety of goats including the swooners.

Only in Arkansas -- at least in the section where apples are grown for the market and some of the terms used by the growers become a part of everyday language, the swooners are known as drop goats because frequently they drop out of trees.

I remember stopping at an Ozark farm one day to get directions. The farmer was catching a spot of rest in the shade of a big oak tree in the yard at the back of the house. He invited me to share an automobile seat set on two chunks of wood with the back against the tree.

It was quite comfortable and as I sat back relaxing I looked up. Now when one looks up into an apple tree he is not surprised if he sees apples. If one takes a gander at a flourishing peach tree he is not surprised if he sees peaches. And if one gazes up in an oak tree he is not surprised if he sees leaves and maybe some acorns and a squirrel or so. But when one looks up into an oak tree and sees goats he is not surprised -- he is astounded.

"Tell me," I entreated my host of the moment, "tell me do I really see goats up in that tree or would you advise that I see either an eye doctor or one that is calling in when one's marbles are missing?"

"Nothin's the matter with yore eyes, ner yore haid," he assured me. Then he chuckled, "Kind of startlin' at that," he conceded, "but they like it up thar. It's shady and if they're a mind to they eat the leaves and the acorns and kin see all around for a right smart piece. Keeps 'em from under foot too."

Just then the kitchen door opened and a woman poked her head out: "Yoooo--Hooo-- Char-LEEE--EEE!" she shrieked. Her voice did not ride the air waves. It plowed thru them, leaving them shattered and scattered.

I shook my head to clear my ears of the sound when something white passed by and there were four distinct plopping sounds, one after the other and after a second's pause, a fifth. "Dadburn it," breathed my host "danged if she haint spooked them goats again."

He pointed and there before us lay five goats.

"Dead?", I wanted to know. "Nope, they're alright," the Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND
March issue of Fortune states that the country's business is better than was expected in their survey at the start of 1960.

The report on the economic outlook, states "Yet on the basis of business news so far, there is every reason to believe that a sustained plateau of prosperity lies ahead. The level of this plateau still depends on investment decisions now in the making. But the strength of investment and consumer demand so far, the waning of inflationary fears, a prospective easing of credit supply and possibly some enlargement of government spending all point to a continuing high level of economic activity."

A number of business analysts have been pointing out that business generally is progressing at a good rate altho not at the boom level some expected. The Fortune article continued "Detroit rushed car assemblies at an eight million rate in case consumers chose to buy at an abnormal rate and in order to refill dealer stocks which were low anyway. Sales of U.S. cars have proved excellent, running to 6,300,000 a year, and they promise to do better. But with car buying proceeding at an orderly fashion, Detroit has reduced assemblies."

"Some lessening in steel needs is evident from the fact that year-end inventories were somewhat higher than estimated and also proved capable of supporting larger end-product output."

It is expected that inventory accumulation will diminish, but this will merely be orderly accrual rather than rushed. It is good, not bad, for the 1960 outlook. Leading investment services bring out the fact that industry spending for plant expansion and improvement has been expanding. This factor is more important in business analysis than current inventory position. Investment services also note the fact that there is now less fear of inflation and an easing in interest rates. It is expected that the Federal Reserve will take further steps to ease the money market. The sensitive 91 day Treasury bill rate is at a 10-month low and the "magic fives" are selling at a premium to yield about 4 per cent.

The drop in interest rates will have the effect of increasing corporate spending since it is easier to market bonds to secure needed funds. The 1960 housing starts for the first two months, were 15 per cent below 1959 figure and read building spending for the same period are off 21 per cent. Easing of interest rates and availability of mortgage funds are expected to aid both these activities.

Personal income is now at the all time high rate of $393 billion and employment for February set a new peak. Electric power production continues to increase faster than expected. Retail sales are likely to show an increase in spite of bad weather handicaps. The late Easter will aid in this.

Recent pessimism is expected to be reversed by expected good quarterly earnings reports and dividend action.

Poor's Investment service for March 28, states, "All indications point to a year of soundly-based, high and fairly steady business activity, bringing substantial gains in corporate earnings and dividends."

HEAD CANCER CRUSADE in area. The chairmen met at the Methodist church in New Lenox to discuss plans for the annual fund drive to aid the fight on cancer. Someday the doctors and other scientists seeking a means to prevent and control this dread disease hope to be successful but research is expensive, it was pointed out, and money is required. The cancer drive began Monday and will continue thru the month. Area chairmen (l to r) are: Ray Carlson, New Lenox; Mrs. Donald Stephen, Frankfort, and Mrs. Luella Dixon, Lincoln Estates. Mrs. Joseph Alexander, Jr., the Mokena chairman, was unable to be present at the time this picture was made. John Jevitz, of Joliet, superintendent of the Will county forest preserve, is county towns chairman for the cancer crusade. (Strappazon photo)

Fuel Bill Higher? Could Be; March Was A Toughie

Homeowners now receiving their gas bills for February and March probably will not be easily convinced that their heating costs for this winter should be only a couple dollars more than for the 1958-59 heating season.

Northern Illinois Gas Co. says this is because March, 1960, was the coldest month of March in history. It averaged 11.1 degrees per day colder (40 per cent) than March last year, and 1.8 degrees per day colder than this past January. Northern Illinois residents may recall, too, that between Feb. 16 and March 16, the mercury never climbed above the freezing mark.

But NI-Gas' experts point out that the late season cold spell was equalized by unseasonal warmth in December and January. Thus the total heating requirements for the winter would be about the same as last year's, providing heating habits are the same.

This information is based on hourly temperatures recorded continuously by the utility's gas dispatchers. They use weather data in their job of assuring that natural gas flows continuously to every one of NI-Gas' approximate 685,000 customers.

Of course, heating habits would affect bills, too, according to the gas dispatchers. The amount of fuel used would depend on changes in thermostat setting, addition of storm windows, winter vacations, room additions, etc. Also, additional gas appliances would cause a slight increase in total gas bills.

Other weather factors such as wind velocity, sunshine and snow also affect fuel consumption, but only in a minor manner in comparison with the primary factor of temperature.

For the statistically-minded, NI-Gas' gas dispatchers said they forecast natural gas consumption based on number of "day-degrees." The "degree-day" is an amount of cold below 65 degrees. It is equal to 65 minus the day's mean temperature. For example, if the average reading was 12 degrees (as it was on March 5 and 6), the dispatchers would record (65-12) a 53-"degree-day."

Thru the end of March this year, the heating season totalled 5,766 "degree-days". Last year there were 5,673 "degree-days" about one per cent less than this year.

The present heating season began with frigid temperatures. October was the coldest since 1952, and November was colder than any other November since 1951.

Then weather turned unseasonably warm. December was much warmer than in any year since 1938, and January was the warmest in the last four years.

Temperatures dipped down again in February, which was the second coldest since 1917. Then thermometer readings in March set an all-time low record.

Death Claims Home Owners Mae Doctor Steam Over Storm Water

Mrs. Mae Doctor, 75 years old, nee Harrington, died in her home on Wolf road, Mokena, Thursday, March 31 following a lingering illness.

She was born in Homer township, March 15, 1885. Mr. and Mrs. Doctor lived in Orland Park for 45 years prior to their coming to Mokena three years ago.

Surviving are her husband, Lawrence, son Donald of Mokena; two daughters Mrs. John (Delores) DeBarbra of Lockport and Mrs. Robert (Lucille) Uthe of Orland Park; two brothers John and Michael Harrington of Lockport, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 2 at 9:30 a.m. from the Schmadeke funeral home, Orland Park to St. Michael's church at 10 a.m. where a solemn requiem high mass was sung. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Doctor was a member of the Altar and Rosary society of St. Michael's church, Good Luck camp #2214 and the Royal Neighbors of America.

Three Frankfort property owners appeared before the village board Monday night to complain of water runoff from the roof of the Trump Chevrolet garage, at Kansas and Hickory streets.

Robert Trump, head of the business, plans to establish a used car lot on the vacant tract south of his garage.

Leroy Hansen, clerk of the village zoning board and also building inspector, informed the board that since the entire block on Hickory from Kansas to Nebraska street is zoned B-2 Trump is within his rights to park used cars there as long as they were in running condition.

The three neighbors who are opposed to the use of the lot, Orville Schroeder, Arthur Lambrecht, and George Hilton, said that they realized their objections would, could not change things they would like something done to keep the water from the garage roof from flooding their properties.

Schroeder said that apparently it was the owners intention to raise the elevation of the lot and pave at least a portion of it, thus accelerating the flow of storm water.

Board members agreed that this could be a serious problem that could fall into the category of a nuisance. Mr. Hansen was to talk with Trump and see if something could be done about draining the lot so storm water would not overflow on adjoining properties or streets and walks.

Mrs. Barnes Dies At 80

Mrs. Minnie Barnes, 80 years old, former resident of Mokena, died in her home, 114 S. Briggs st., Joliet, Tuesday morning following a lingering illness.

Born Aug. 27, 1879, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Mattes, in Mauston, Wis., where she lived until the family moved to the farm in New Lenox; the present site of Lincoln-Way High school.

She was married to George Barnes on April 1, 1908. They farmed in the Mokena and New Lenox area for several years, until he gave up farming and worked for the Rock Island railroad as a fireman. At that time they moved to Mokena where they built their home on Third st., and lived there for a number of years. About 30 years ago they moved to Joliet. Mr. Barnes died two years ago. Mrs. Barnes is the last of her family, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carrie Mattes preceded her in death by one week.

She is survived by one daughter, Evelyn, Mrs. Samuel Mancuso and one grandchild, Sammy George, and many other nieces and nephews. She was a member of Mokena Royal Neighbors and of the St. John English Lutheran church, Joliet where services will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. William Boldt will officiate. Burial will be in St. John cemetery, Mokena.

PLAN BUFFET DANCE -- This committee is in charge of arrangements for the dance to be given by the parents' club of St. Jude's school, New Lenox, in the American Legion ballroom, Ottawa and Webster sts., Joliet, the night of May 7. The club hopes the proceeds will enable it to provide a new bus for the school. The men here (l to r) are: Harry Clemens, publicity chairman; Norman Beebe, co-chairman of the committee in charge; Fr. Dennis Hall, O.F.M., pastor; Phil Stockley, co-chairman and Eugene Schubert, president of the Parents club.

Around The World--Not In 80 Days--But In A Jeep

Ted Bumiller, who traveled by Jeep around the world, will present a color adventure film of his year-long solo journey at Lincoln-Way Community High School on Friday, April 22, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium.

Bumiller is an architect and a graduate of applied arts college, University of Cincinnati. He has been traveling extensively in many lands since his college days.

The adventure film, "By Jeep Around the World," covers people in thirty countries—their everyday lives, culture, architecture, history and handicraft.

Bumiller, on his 61,000 miles tour of the globe, drove 45,000 miles by land, using 16 tires, 7 sets of springs, and 2300 gallons of gasoline.

He followed the sun around the world, camping all the way except when he lived with the people. Although no linguist, Bumiller communicated with them in sign language.

Much of the time he slept in cemeteries, which all people avoid to escape the curious crowds.

The adventure is packed with suspense and thrills of bullfighting in Spain, the fireworks, crowds and parades on Bastille Day in Paris. An intriguing surprise is the filming of an exquisite, little pantomime acted in the Gardens of Tivoli, Copenhagen, the oldest amusement park in the world.

Death Takes Caroline Mattes

Last rites were held for Mrs. Caroline Mattes, 85 years old, Monday afternoon in the Sonntag, Burgess and Wylie chapel in Joliet, with the Rev. William J. Riemann officiating. Burial was in St. John's cemetery, Mokena.

Mrs. Mattes, who had been a resident of Mokena for some 35 years, lived the past five years with her sister, Mrs. Francis Braun, 9 E. First st., Mokena. She was born Oct. 22, 1874 in Valparaiso, Ind., the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anton Suszycki.

When a young child she moved to Mauston, Wis. She was united in marriage with John Mattes, 1894. They went to housekeeping on a farm in New Lenox and when they retired from farming they moved to Mokena. A few years after her husband's death in 1942, when her health began to decline, she made her home with her sister and three months ago was removed to the Johnson Nursing home in Joliet, where she died Saturday, April 2.

She was a member of the Woman's Guild of St. John's church, in Mokena for many years.

Surviving beside her sister is a brother, John of Reedsburg, Wis., and several nieces and nephews.

Say Woman Abused Dogs

A hearing is scheduled this Saturday before Justice of the Peace James Sherwood at New Lenox for Mrs. Lucille Gustafson, of Joliet, whom state police charge with abusing animals and allowing animals to run at large.

The hearing was originally scheduled for last Saturday but was continued. Mrs. Gustafson, who owns a 20-acre tract in New Lenox township off Francis road, had entered a complaint against three young persons whom she charges with vandalism.

When police went to investigate her complaint they found 40 dogs on the premises. Some were nailed up in cages, according to State Trooper James Brockman, some were running at large others were crippled; some were blind, there were some that were dead and still caged, and those alive were described as half starved.

The dogs were reportedly turned over to Norman Glish of the Chicago Anti-Cruelty Society and taken away.

Brockman added that the dogs which were loose had been running the countryside in packs.

This is not the first time Mrs. Gustafson has been in difficulties with authorities about dogs. Files of the Joliet police department show that back in 1947 when she resided at 200 Cass street neighbors complained about the number of dogs she had at that address. In 1951 she was arrested on a nuisance charge growing out of a similar situation and was arrested again on a like charge in 1952. In 1957 she was ordered by Police Magistrate Martin Jackson to get rid of 25 dogs and in 1959 she was arrested on a charge of letting dogs run. It was after one of her brushes with Joliet police that she is said to have started keeping dogs in New Lenox.

Ask Check On Sewer, Water Installations

The Mokena plan commission, of which Robert Guether is chairman, has written letters to the state board of health and the state sanitary water board asking them to check on the sewer and water systems designed for Arbury Hills, a subdivision launched along U.S. 45.

The letter stressed that the commission was not acting in a critical manner but wanted to make certain that the sanitary sewer system, particularly the disposal plant, met all the rules and regulations.

The commission would also like assurance that the corporation that is being set up to operate the water, sewer and sewerage treatment is of a permanent structure.

Burton Breidert, head of the Frankfort plan commission, discussed the matter with the Frankfort village board Monday night and it was agreed that the Frankfort commission should also write similar letters to state health authorities and the water board.

Both communities are interested in the Arbury development because of its proximity to Frankfort and Mokena. Both bodies stress they are not opposed to the development of the subdivision but are interested in the design and operation of the sewers and sewerage treatment.

Contest For Offices On April 12

Will county voters will find contests for some state and district offices when they go to the polls in the primary next Tuesday, April 12, but not for county positions. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

The Both major parties have contests for the governor's nomination. Hayes Robertson is opposing Gov. William G. Stratton who is seeking a third term on the G.O.P. ticket. The Democrats have a choice of three candidates, Joseph D. Lohman, now state treasurer; Stephen A. Mitchell, former national chairman of the Democrats, and Otto Kerner, ex-county judge of Cook County.

The Republicans have six in the race for U.S. senator; Samuel W. Witwer, Warren E. Wright, John R. Harrell, John W. Lewis, Jr., William H. Rentschler and John A. Ricker. Observers say the contest is between Witwer and Rentschler. Sen. Paul H. Douglas is opposed in the Democratic primary.

Dorothy G. O'Brien, of DeKalb, Democratic nominee for congress in the 15th district two years ago is running in the primary against Stanley Hubbs of Will County. On the Republican ticket the incumbent, Noah M. Mason is opposed by Louis F. Bottino, of Lockport, former county superintendent of schools of Will County and now a member of the general assembly.

In the state representative race there are three candidates for the two places on the Republican ticket and two for the one place on the Democratic. Warren Wood, Plainfield, incumbent and former speaker of the Illinois house, is up for reelection on the Republican ticket. Also running is Meade Baltz, chairman of the Will County board of supervisors, from Joliet, and Bernard Vercellotti, of Wilmington, county mining inspector. Francis J. Loughran, Joliet, Democrat incumbent is opposed by Richard F. Curran, also of Joliet, member of a burial vault firm.

Candidates for county offices on the Republican ticket are all incumbents. Since the Democrats are also without opposition in the primary the fall ticket will line up as follows.

State's Attorney Frank H. Masters will be opposed by John D. Lynch.

Circuit Clerk J. Elmer Swansbro will be opposed by John J. Houlihan.

County Recorder Robert L.

Spreitzer will be opposed by William F. Wessel.

County Auditor Martin Lundquist will be opposed by Felix Longhini. Coroner Willard G. Blood will be opposed by Floyd Nielsen.

This election Frankfort township will be divided into five precincts and the polling places listed are: 1-Village hall, Kansas st., Frankfort; 2-Cooper-Hostert Garage, Front st., Mokena; 3-Barney Hostert garage, 195th & Wolf rd., Mokena; 4-VFW hall, Wolf rd., Mokena; 5-Ann Rutledge school, Lincoln Estates.

HERE'S OUR CASE..

YOU

BE THE JUDGE

FRANK H. MASTERS, JR.
YOUR STATE'S ATTORNEY

When I was elected your Republican State's Attorney, I felt I had certain obligations to the citizens of Will County.

The two basic obligations were:

1. To prosecute to the limit of the law all persons guilty of crimes perpetrated within our county.
2. To defend with equal vigor and interest the rights and privileges of all citizens of Will County.

To this end we have labored and succeeded.

This fine record has been achieved with the help of the outstanding staff of capable assistants which I had the privilege of acquiring. . . John J. McGarry, Joseph Kirincich, Michael Orenic and Robert J. Higgins.

By working closely with our various police agencies, Will County has remained a clean, safe county—a better place to live, work and play.

We would like to continue this fine record for another four years.

Lawrence Kohl Retires After Long Public Service

BY MARGARET SEMMLER
Giving 31 years of his life serving his community, without pay, is the record of Lawrence Kohl who, after serving his community as school board member is not a candidate for re-election to the Lincoln-Way board at the coming election.

Not that Mr. Kohl is not interested anymore in helping his community; that he will do if there is anything he can, but after these many years he believes someone else should take over.

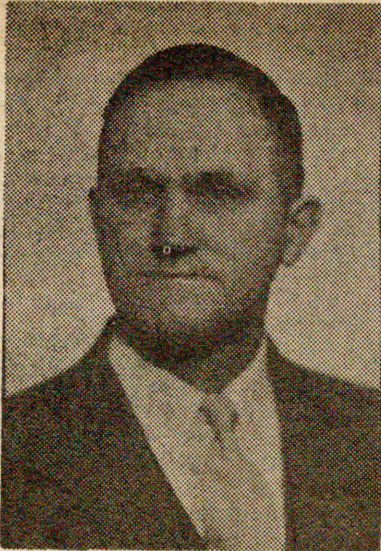

Mr. Kohl was born in Orland township in 1888 and after his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kohl, bought a farm just east of Mokena on 191st st., he moved there with them in 1904. He attended the rural school, at Wolf and Marley roads for two years, graduating from eighth grade.

After completing the eighth grade he farmed with his parents and in 1912 took over the complete management of the 160 acre farm. He was married to Miss Lydia Geuther in 1920 and they set up housekeeping on the same farm, his parents having retired and moved to Joliet. They have always lived on this farm and now that the Lawrence Kohls are in semi-retirement, their son Marvin and wife, work the place.

It is interesting to note that when Lawrence Kohl was farming, 80% of the people in this vicinity lived on farms and the farmers paid 80% of the taxes, which included school tax. Today 10% of the people live on farms, but the farmers still pay 80% of the taxes, with only six farm children in the area attending school. Along in 1920 the taxes on the Kohl's farm was around $300 or $400; today they pay $1,200 of which approximately $800 goes to school taxes. There are 25 farms in the Mokena area. More homes being built in the village of Mokena and subdivisions added this is why more children attend schools from this non-rural area.

Because Mr. Kohl had such good understanding of situations of living and good sound judgement, he was asked to serve in District 159, Mokena public school, as director in 1933. For 20 years he served this district. During that period, the present Carpenter street school was enlarged by a

Another change was necessary, when the law declared that the former three man board was obsolete, because of the increased number of pupils, and Mokena school had to change from that system to a seven-man board of education. Mr. Kohl was duly elected to that body.

The next important question arose: "Did this area need a high school of their own?" Altho Mokena, for a few years, did have a two-year high school, it did not prove satisfactory and the pupils from the district attended Joliet township high school, with the district paying the tuition fees. They, and the number of pupils gradually increased, until the amount paid in tuition, which was $258 per pupil per year, made a big dent in the tax money received. Today the cost of educating a pupil in high school here is $600.

Therefore, it was decided to create a committee to make a thorough survey of the whole area. The group was comprised of Lawrence Kohl, Mokena; A. H. Krusemark, Frankfort; James Dixon, Lincoln Estates; Supt. John Oster, New Lenox and George Bovee, Manhattan. When the allotted time given -- two years -- ended the committee made its report to the district at a meeting held in the Haven school in New Lenox. Also present was the late Dr. William Reavis, retired head of the Education department of Chicago university, an authority on the location and plant needs of schools. The report recommended a high school, centrally located in the area of the townships of Frankfort, New Lenox and the north two-thirds of Manhattan. When the referendum was held, the citizens in this area voted in favor to create a high school of our own, to buy the present site of 70 acres; to build the school, and authorized a bond issue where with to accomplish all this.

When the time came to create a board of directors for the coming high school, it was suggested that each of the five communities should have a representative on the board, and Mr. Kohl was elected from Mokena by a large majority. Others so elected were A. H. Krusemark, Frankfort, James Dixon, Lincoln Estates; George Bovee and Lester

Case, Manhattan and Ray Reiter and Earl Robinson, New Lenox. This board began at once to look for a superintendent and everyone agrees they could not have a better selection than choosing A. Hunter Chapman, who is still at the head of the school, guiding it safely thru the nine years since its organization.

When the high school was opened for the first school session there were nearly 300 pupils and the forward look was to prepare for 800 pupils by 1965. Because of the rapid growth of the area when school opens next September the enrollment will exceed 800.

In the nine years in the life of Lincoln-Way, Mr. Kohl has served, and served well, as everyone will attest, and during that time three additions have been added to the school. The third addition will not be completed until September.

The first two years Mr. Kohl served on the high school board he also was a member of the Mokena elementary board and as soon as his term expired he was not a candidate for re-election.

In speaking of the high school board members, Mr. Kohl stated, he could not have been a member of a better group of men. They, with Supt. Chapman, and Asst. Supt. Earl Dieken, have cooperated in a marvelous way, each board meeting being completely business and without dissension, all working for the best interest of the pupils and the school of which they and all citizens are proud. And in looking back, Mr. Kohl stated the people in the area gave him such loyal support that he cannot express himself sufficiently to show his appreciation.

Everyone who knows Mr. Kohl and his wife, sincerely wish them many years of well-earned happiness.

CHEVY! YOU CAN'T BUY ANY CAR FOR LESS ...UNLESS IT'S A LOT LESS CAR!

Anyone who's looked around knows the majority of Chevrolet models—6's and V8's together—list for less than comparable models of other low-priced cars. But the price tag alone is only one of a whole raft of reasons a Chevy does better by your dollars.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you—at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering. Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. Crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet offers the widest choice of power teams, too. Drive a Chevy just once. You'll have a tough time settling for anything less.

1960 FACTS for REPUBLICANS

ILLINOIS HAS NEVER ELECTED A GOVERNOR FOR THREE CONSECUTIVE TERMS

Several have tried and all have failed.

A popular Republican Governor tried for a third consecutive term in 1948 and lost by 500,000 votes, dragging a Republican U.S. Senator and the Republican presidential nominee down to defeat with him, the latter by just 33,000 votes.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS ABOUT GOVERNOR STRATTON'S VOTE-GETTING ABILITY?

In the Republican landslide year of 1956, Stratton squeaked through by less than 37,000 votes, while Ike and Nixon were winning by 848,000 votes, Secretary of State Carpenter by 600,000 votes, and other Republicans by equally high majorities.

In the general election of 1958, the Republicans lost every state-wide race and scores of local contests. We also lost the State House of Representatives.

With all the power of office and patronage at his disposal, the third term candidate even lost Sangamon County.

This year the Democrats will go all out to capture the State Senate. If they are successful, we will be "Michiganized." The Democrats need capture just six additional seats to control the State Senate. Only strong leadership at the top can keep the State Senate Republican.

DO-IT-YOURSELF POLITICAL POLL

Obtain your own facts on the political situation in Illinois. Try asking any 20 people not on the State payroll how they feel about Stratton as a candidate. Then decide whether it is possible for him to be a winner in November. The answer is easy to come by—he could not win in November even if nominated; and therefore should not be nominated.

NEW LEADERSHIP NEEDED

Senator Hayes Robertson has the experience, ability, integrity and dedication of purpose to rebuild the Republican Party and lead it to victory, state wide and locally. As an able and experienced member of the State Senate he knows government. As a Republican township Committeeman he knows the problems and needs of precinct workers. As a successful businessman he knows administration and cost saving. As a lawyer he has a high respect for the law and its administration.

Hayes Robertson is qualified to make an outstanding Governor. He will lead and revitalize the Illinois Republican Party.

WEATHER DELAYS SWS BASEBALL

Games Held Up Until Next Week; Grounds A Mess

The weather is causing all sorts of floods, and some people are wondering if the major leagues will be able to start the regular horsehide season on time. The floods are not floods of season's tickets, as Bill Veeck would be happy with.

However, the weatherman has washed out the opening of baseball activity in the SWS League. No league games are scheduled until next Monday, April 11, but most schools are dubious about having the fields ready for action.

All of the exhibition games were cancelled due to the inclement weather. Lincoln-Way and Carl Sandburg were scheduled to get underway last Monday, but they had not been out of the gym for a practice session as yet.

Jonas Lashmet, head baseball coach at Lincoln-Way, wondered if they would get a change to a play a few games this spring. Many people are wondering much the same thing.

Bremen was slated to open against Bloom today, but this game was highly improbable. Sandburg and Lincoln-Way were forced to cancel their second games of the season yesterday, Wednesday, April 8.

If the sun would come out and remain through out the entire week there is a remote possibility that the Conference schedule might get underway on time.

Monday would pit defending champ, Carl Sandburg against Reavis Rams. Powerhouse, Evergreen Park, is slated to visit Lincoln-Way for the opener. Bremen will face co-champ of 1959, Rich in Midlothian.

The Conference office is so dubious about starting on time that they have stated, "We will not attempt to keep up with all the changes (schedule), but will give you the responsibility of reporting scores if standings are to be kept."

Mokena Wins 2nd Annual Lincoln-Way Grade School Wrestling Tournament

Mokena nosed out defending champion, New Lenox, and Ann Rutledge 65-63 to win the second annual Lincoln-Way grade school wrestling tournament last Saturday evening. Mokena won the championship with a heavyweight second place and 10 points. Up to this point Mokena was behind both New Lenox and Ann Rutledge. Ann Rutledge was in the lead at the end of the 135-pound match.

Mokena had three champions, but scored consistently in most of the weight division to take the team trophy.

St. Joseph's was fourth with 40 points, Weitenhoff was fifth with 29. St. Mary's was sixth, scoring 14 points with only one entry. That entry was champ, however, Summit Hill scored 13 points with four entries. St. Jude's failed to score and finished last.

Sandburg Sets Aims On Track Conference Crown

At Carl Sandburg High School 38 people have the same thought in mind, that of winning the varsity track conference crown; 37 are track candidates and 38 is Coach Bill Adams.

Coach Adams has some rebuilding to do. He lost three of his finest trackmen through graduation last year. They are Reed Williams, possessor of the mile run record, Bob Stoutenour, first in the shot put competition, and Al Jacklich, who threw the discus. The positions created by graduation will more than likely be filled from last year's frosh-soph championship squad.

Two of this year's promising juniors set conference records in their respective events last year. Dave Bormet rewrote the shot put record with a toss of 42 feet, 11 3/4 inches. Ron Lawson took all competition and set another record mark with his jump of five feet, eight inches.

The events in which the Sandburg team should excel are the distance runs and the field events. In the half-mile and mile circuit Adams is relying on Tony Kaneversky and Wayne Matulis to carry the load. The 220 yard dash has Charles Kallstrom as its best candidate. Pat Barrett, who set a school record in the 440 with a time of 54.6 seconds, is back. He is meeting some stiff competition from Junior Byron Hyink and senior Al Murray. In the 880 yard contest, Tony Kaneversky is the person to watch.

The field events should prove to be the soundest part of the team. Dave Bormet, last year's frosh champion and Lynn Conrady, who finished second to Dave in conference competition, are the shot put hopefuls. Juniors John Kunz and Joel Obrinski are vying for honors in the discus throw. The broad jump has senior Bill Agnew and junior Art Grafen. Both are fine prospects. Ron Lawson and Joe Straka seem to have the high jump nailed down between themselves. They consistently out-jump all other competition in practice. The final event in the field is the pole vault. Again, three members make this a neck and neck race for the top position. Juniors Bill Nichols and Ron Semetis and senior Bill Pfeiffer all are clearing 9' 6" in outdoor practice.

The hurdlers, both high and low, are headed by Bill Agnew, Alex Krol and Ron Lawson will round out the three man competition in that event. The 880 and mile relay teams are both undecided because of the keen rivalry.

The dash has always been a trouble spot on the Sandburg team. The hundred yard dash and the 220 with Grafen and Kallstrom running should be greatly improved over previous years. Last year the Carl Sandburg team finished second in the conference to Oak Lawn. When asked what teams will be tough this year, Coach Adams replied, "Well, Oak Lawn has lost most of the team returning from last year and Homewood-Elsenhorn has taken some of its team from Bloom. The should be the two that will give us the most trouble."

KENNETH A. HALVORSON Village Clerk

VILLAGE OF ORLAND PARK,

Retires To Give Village Full Time

For the past 38 years Walter Pfaff, village clerk of Frankfort, has conducted his office at his barbershop on Kansas street, the same show opened by his father, the late Charles Pfaff, 56 years ago. But the village business has grown to such an extent that Pfaff has turned the shop over to Burnett Schram, who has been with him since 1938, and will not devote all of his time to the affairs of his office.

Last week-end he moved his desk, filing vault and a mountain of papers and records to the village hall and will maintain regular hours there -- 9 to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. On Wednesdays and Saturdays he will read water meters, check the pumping equipment of the water department, repair water meters and perform other tasks.

Water bills formerly were paid on an annual or semi-annual basis but when the sewer is completed they will be paid bimonthly but staggered so there will be payments coming in each month.

With home building growing steadily in the Frankfort area the clerk's business will also increase and the village board came to the conclusion that someone must be available at regular hours in the village hall. As for Pfaff trying to conduct a barbershop and fulfill his clerk's duties was getting too much for him and the customers, his and the village.

So he gave up barbering, a trade in which he started as a lather boy half a century ago when he was 12 years old. In those days barbers wielded hot towels as now but the application was performed by boys. Walter had to stand on a soap box to perform his chores and that is how he started in the barber business.

When his father died in 1938 Walter took over the shop and began his association with Schram.

Now that Mr. Pfaff is devoting all of his time to village business the board has established a salary for him in the new appropriation ordinance of $5,000 a year. The board has also arranged with Victor Eisenbrandt to operate the sewage treatment plant and do maintenance work and perform other tasks in other departments. Eisenbrandt is an electrician. When he is put to work regularly his salary will be $4,200 a year. In the meantime if his services are required he will be paid on an hourly basis at $2 an hour.

At its meeting Monday night the board also arranged with Albert Zechlin to make three offices in the village hall, one for the clerk,

Sprinkler Firm To Show

Films At Frankfort School

The Frankfort grade school board, which last year had a sprinkler system installed in the building to afford better fire protection, is inviting the public to view some films on the subject Friday night.

The films will be shown by the company that installed the sprinklers at Frankfort, David E. McDaniel Co. One is on the Chicago school fire in 1958 and the other is "Crusaders Against Fire."

The program, which will be held in the school, is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Trout practically stop digesting their food when the water temperature drops below 40 degrees Fahrenheit. At that temperature they are sluggish and a small fish may satisfy a trout's hunger for several days.
